

SCHOOL OF LAW
2019
YEAR IN REVIEW

INTRODUCTION BY THE DEAN, PROF. DR ACHILLES C. EMILIANIDES

We are excited to publish our new year-in-review of the School of Law of the University of Nicosia, which covers the main activities of the School during 2019. The School houses two departments, the Department of Law and the Department of Politics and Governance and accordingly this booklet refers to the three pillars of the School: law, politics and governance.

The School of Law is one of the most active in the region, as shown also by the sample of events detailed in this booklet, offering its graduates specialised knowledge and skills in handling difficult situations and resolving practical day-to-day problems. During 2019 our faculty were actively engaged in high quality teaching, edge research and extra-curricular activities that promoted the School and the University of Nicosia.

The Department of Law offers an LLB with three distinct routes: (1) an English law, English language LLB, (2) a Cypriot Law, Greek language LLB and (3) a Greek law, Greek language LLB. The LLB is unique for accommodating a comparative legal environment and for offering a full range of courses of common law (English law), continental law (Greek law) and mixed law (Cypriot law). The Department of Politics and Governance also offers a well-recognised BA in International Relations and European Studies. At a postgraduate level there is a wide range of options at School level: an LLM with concentration on European Business Law, as well as Human Rights and Criminal Justice, which is offered both in the conventional mode and the distance learning teaching mode, an MA in International Relations and European Studies, which is also offered both in the conventional and distance learning teaching modes, a joint MA in the Law of the Economy and of the Enterprises with the Hellenic Open University which is offered as a distance learning programme, a joint

Law-Tsatsos Foundation. At PhD level, the School offers a PhD in Law, a PhD in International Relations and European Studies, a PhD in Public Administration, as well as a joint PhD in Human Rights, Society and Multi-Level Governance with the Universities of Padova, Zagreb and Western Sydney.

MA in Criminal Law and Addictions with the Aristotle University of Thessaloniki; as well as an MA in Law and Politics in the European Union and an MA in Public Administration, both offered in conventional and distance learning modes, and with the support of the well-known Centre of European Constitutional

Our objective is to further consolidate our position as a leader within the University of Nicosia and in Cyprus in academic activities pertinent with its areas of interest and to maintain and constantly expand and deepen our network of cooperation and partnerships with other institutions in Cyprus and abroad, including governmental institutions. We further aim to promote engagement in high - level teaching and edge research in its areas of interest and to contribute to the further development, evolution and internationalization of the University of Nicosia through our activities.

In this respect we constantly expand our attractiveness to international students by designing and offering programmes of study, both in conventional and DL form, that correspond to contemporary academic needs and exploit the School's comparative studies advantage and specialization in the interrelation between law, politics, governance and technology. We further submit competitive research proposals seeking for international research funding, as well as for the organisation of international conferences and seminars, and coordinate with our affiliated think tanks and research institutions.

PUBLICATIONS

The Cyprus Review

This year has been particularly challenging for The Cyprus Review (TCR). As Editor-in-Chief Associate Dean Dr Ioannou noted in her Editorial Note of Volume 31(1), 'This year the main challenge before us as a Journal is to respond to the continuous flow of articles submitted to the Review, as well as to successfully deal with the internal goals we have set, most important amongst them being that of publishing an additional third (Special) Issue in December 2019.'

The Editorial Team of the Journal was significantly strengthened with the recruitment of a Publications Editor, namely Dimitris A. Kourtis. Each of the three issues of Volume 31 –namely fall 31(1), spring 31(2), and the Special Issue on Cyprus-Russia Relations 31(3)– comprised more than 300 pages of articles, book reviews and policy papers. Volumes 31(1) and 31(2) hosted Tributes, the former to the late Dr Caesar Mavratsas and the latter to the late Prof. Andreas Sophocleous.

Finally, the Journal also issued, in 2019, a Special Issue 31(3) on Cyprus-Russia Relations, in cooperation with the Moscow State University of the Russian Ministry of Foreign Affairs (MGIMO). This Issue publication was seen as the culmination of a process that began with an agreement signed between our two Universities to launch an academic project, offering the possibility to UNIC students of the Master's degree Programmes in 'International Relations and European Studies' and 'Law and Politics in the European Union', to earn a Master's Degree in International Political Consulting from MGIMO.

This is the revamped Editorial Team of the Journal: Dr Christina Ioannou, Editor-in-Chief; Professor Achilles C. Emilianides, Consulting Editor; Dr Emiliou A. Solomou, Managing Editor; Dimitrios A. Kourtis, Publications Editor; Dr Maria Hadjiathanasiou, Assistant Editor. Dr Michalis Kontos and Dr Giorgos Charalambous will act as our new Book Editors. Furthermore, the journal added two copy editors and a graphics designer to its roster. Dr Odysseas Christou assumed his duties as Member of the Journal's Editorial Board.

Law and Religion is now in its third edition fully updated, whereas Family and Succession Law, Constitutional Law, Media Law and Labour Law, are now in their second editions.

7. Στέργιος Μήτας, Κώστας Στρατηλάτης και Ιορδάνης Κουμασίδης (επ.), Η Ισχύς και το Δίκαιο (Hippasus, Νομική Σχολή Πανεπιστημίου Λευκωσίας, 2019), σς. 274.

Παραδοσιακά το δίκαιο προβάλλεται και διεκδικείται –κατεξοχήν απ’ τον ανίσχυρο– ως αντίβαρο στη βία, την αυθαιρεσία, την ωμή επιβολή ισχύος. Την ίδια στιγμή το δίκαιο έχει πολλές φορές εξηγηθεί και ελεγχθεί ως ένα φαινόμενο που αντανακλά, όπως και αναπαράγει, σχέσεις ισχύος που ενυπάρχουν μέσα σε σχέσεις εξουσίας.

Στην έκδοση στεγάζονται συμβολές που διερευνούν τη σχέση αυτή στη σκέψη και το έργο κλασικών, νεώτερων και σύγχρονων φιλοσόφων και φιλοξενούνται μελέτες που θίγουν τη συνάρθρωση δικαίου και ισχύος αναφορικά με θεμελιώδη ζητήματα του δικαίου και της νομικής θεωρίας. Τέλος, εξετάζονται προβολές της εξεταζόμενης θεματικής σε ειδικότερα πεδία και αντικείμενα δικαίου.

8. Adamides Constantinos, Securitization and Desecuritization Processes in Protracted Conflicts: The Case of Cyprus (Cham: Palgrave Macmillan, 2020), pp. 196.

Using the Cyprus conflict as a case study, this book examines how the securitization process in protracted conflict environments changes, as it becomes routinised and potentially even institutionalised. Furthermore, the process is not limited to the mainstream top-down path, as it also follows a horizontal and even bottom-up direction, which inevitably has an impact on the goals and securitization options of both the mainstream securitizing actors and the audience(s). Lastly, on a theoretical level it examines how the multi-directional securitization forces have an impact on the elite and audience-driven desecuritization efforts and ultimately on the prospects for conflict resolution. The book's case study, the Cyprus question, offers an alternative reading of the forces dominating the specific conflict, while concurrently offers a useful framework for the study of similar protracted and deeply securitised conflicts.

9. Ξενοφών Κοντιάδης, Αχιλλεύς Κ. Αιμιλιανίδης και Χαράλαμπος Ανθόπουλος (επ.), Η Δημόσια Διοίκηση μετά την Κρίση (Εκδόσεις Σάκκουλα, Κέντρο Ευρωπαϊκού Συνταγματικού Δικαίου και Νομική Σχολή Πανεπιστημίου Λευκωσίας, 2019), σσ. 235.

Η Δημόσια Διοίκηση, πέρα από τις όποιες αποσπασματικές αλλαγές έγιναν και τις οποίες οφείλουμε να αξιολογήσουμε αυτοτελώς καθεμία, 10 χρόνια μετά το ξέσπασμα της κρίσης εμφανίζεται απαξιωμένη και αποδυναμωμένη. Καμία από τις όποιες θετικές παρεμβάσεις έγιναν δεν μπορεί να ισοσκελίσει την αρνητική φόρτιση όλων αυτών των χρόνων, η οποία έχει επιδράσει καταστροφικά στην επαγγελματική ταυτότητα και αυτοσυνειδησία των στελεχών που υπηρετούν σε αυτήν. Κανείς δεν αρνείται τις παλιές (και κατά κόρον αναλυμένες) σοβαρές παθογένειες της Δημόσιας Διοίκησης στην Ελλάδα και την Κύπρο. Δεν είναι όμως αυτή η μόνη πραγματικότητα. Ο παρών τόμος περιλαμβάνει έξι κεφάλαια που ανατέμνουν τη δημόσια διοίκηση, τις επιπτώσεις της κρίσης και τις αναγκαίες μεταρρυθμίσεις.

10. Charalambous Giorgos, Ioannou G. (eds), Left Radicalism and Populism in Europe (London/New York: Routledge, 2019), pp. 269.

While there has been much focus in recent times on the rise of right-wing populism in Europe, there has been surprisingly little material on the phenomenon of left-wing populism. This edited collection seeks to fill that gap with an investigation of the relationship between the radical left and populism. Featuring a broad range of historical and contemporary case studies from across Europe, this is a much-needed empirical account of this phenomenon. This book will be of considerable interest to researchers, scholars and students of left radicalism, European politics and the politics of social movements. It will also appeal to non-academic audiences, especially party and social movement activists because of its politically salient topic and its historical and comparative focus.
